ADVANCE ON MUKDEN

ARMIES OF OYAMA MOVE FORWARD TO ATTACK FORCES OF KUROPATKIN.

VICTORY FOR THE JAPANESE

RUSSIAN TROOPS SAID TO HAVE BEEN DEFEATED IN GENERAL ENGAGEMENT.

Field Marshal Oyama has begun the long expected advance upon the Russian army at Mukden and a coincident move against Simintin is indicated by the fact that the Japanese have occupied Siaoheyho, west of the Liao river. There is a concentration of Japanese forces in the vicinity of the Yental mines and the advance lines are gradually pushed eastward. General Sakharoff, in the dispatches to the war office at St. Petersburg, reports success in several engagements of a minor character.

According to the London Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent, it is reported that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden, but the story is regarded as premature.

An undated dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters reports the present Japanese military organization to be as efficient as it has been at any time since the war began.

There is no definite news from Port Arthur.

Change in the Russian minister of marine and naval commanders are announced on high authority. The new head of the admiralty, it is said, will be Vice Admiral Doubasoff, an officer of wide experience in war and the present head of the technical bureau of the ministry of marine.

DEFEAT OF RUSSIANS

JAPANESE TROOPS REPORTED TO HAVE WON A BIG BATTLE AT MUKDEN.

London, Oct. 1.—According to the Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent it is reported there that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden.

REORGANIZATION OF THE NAVY.

Russia Making Several Changes of High Officials.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The reorganization of the navy, which has been foreshadowed by the Associated Press, begins with the announcement on the highest authority that Vice Admiral Doubasoff, the present head of the technical bureau of the admiralty, will be appointed minister of marine. Vice Admiral Avelan, whom he will succeed, will be given the honorary post of chief of the Red Cross society, succeeding Admiral Kremer, who died recently. Vice Admiral Rojstvensky will return to St. Petersburg to assume active charge of the naval staff, a position from which he could ill be spared. The Pacific squadron will be entrusted to Rear Admiral Chouknin, the present chief of the Black Sea fleet. Admiral Birloff will be transferred from the Baltic to the Black sea, while Veselago, hitherto Admiral Birloff's assistant, will take charge of the Baltic ports fleet.

Vice Admiral Doubasoff enjoys the highest esteem of officers of the Russian navy. He is a man of the highest ability and energy.

GREAT CHANGE HAS OCCURRED.

Japs Appear Anxious to Be on the Defensive.

Mukden, Oct. 1.—A great change in the situation here has occurred. The Japanese now appear anxious to act on the defensive, and have fortified a position northwest of the Yental mines. According to the best estimates obtainable, the Japanese army confronting General Kuropatkin comprises a grand total of 180 battalions. Allowing 800 men to a battalion there are 144,000 infantry. In addition there are 6,300 cavalry and 638 guns. The distribution of the Japanese forces is as follows: One division at Bentsiaputze, two divisions at the Yental mines, four divisions on the railway a little north of Liaoyang, one division westward near Hlamadense and one division at Sandepu.

Russians estimate the Japanese forces at the following strength: General Kuroki, 76 battalions of infantry, 18 squadrons of cavalry and 276 guns. General Oku's army consists of 60 battalions of infantry, 26 squadrons of cavalry and 242 guns. General Nodzu commands 44 battalions of infantry, 9 squadrons of cavalry and 120 guns.

SIEGE MAY BE PROTRACTED.

Japs May Not Again Attempt to Take Port Arthur by Storm.

London, Oct. 1.—The failure of the latest Japanese attempt to drive out the Port Arthur fleet and reduce the fortress has led, according to the Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent, to the decision that the Japanese must go into quarters. Japanese officers admitting that General Stoessel is making a superb stand.

"Accordingly," the correspondent

says, "permanent fortifications" affording excellent shelter are being constructed outside the Russian main line of defenses and warm clothing is being brought up for the troops. Reinforcements are continually arriving. Finding it impossible to hold outer forts, even when they are captured, owing to the enflading fire, the only alternative left the Japanese is to cut off supplies and communications.

The Morning Post's report of a general engagement, in which the Japanese were victorious, at Mukden, is not confirmed in any quarter.

BANDITS WRECK THE RAILROAD.

Chinese Brigands Harrass Russians Near Harbin.

Harbin, Oct. 1.—Russian scouts have ascertained that fresh Japanese forces are concentrating at the Yental mines and gradually moving eastward. A strong Japanese force west of the Liao valley has occupied Siaoheyho, south of Simintin.

A company of Chinese bandits Thursday night attempted to wreck the railroad near the station of Fantziantun, 150 miles south of Harbin. They killed a sentinel and caused slight damage. A detachment of guards was sent in pursuit of the bandits. The railway track was repaired by morning.

WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

Russians in St. Petersburg Agitated Over Alarming Reports.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The city is full of rumors. It is persistently stated that riots have occurred at Odessa, and that cavalry charges were necessary to disperse crowds that had assembled at the station shouting "down with the war," when the imperial train arrived. Another wild rumor is that the czar-vitch is dead. There is not the slightest foundation for these stories. The imperial infant is in the best of health.

ENTIRE LINE MOVING

JAPANESE ARMIES ADVANCE ON RUSSIANS AT MUKDEN IN FULL FORCE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The war office at a late hour of the night gave out a telegram from General Sakharoff, dated Sept. 30, describing a successful onslaught upon a Japanese guard near Yental on Sept. 28. The Japanese began the fight by attacking a position held by the Russians at Oultaidze, twenty miles south of the Hun river. The Russians withdrew and then counter-marched and occupied the enemy's position at Toumytsa, north of Yental, and drove the Japanese as far as Yental station, losing four men wounded, whereas the Japanese lost 20 killed or wounded.

General Sakharoff further reports that a reconnaissance on Sept. 29 showed that the Japanese force was concentrating in increasing numbers along the Yental branch of the railroad, and that there is also considerable concentration of the Japanese along the Taitse river near Bentshiu. General Sakharoff's telegram as given to the press contains no mention of developments on the Eastern flank. It is admitted that the Japanese advance has already begun along the whole line, assuming its most active form in the East, whither Field Marshal Oyama continues to draft large forces. Operations are also progressing west of the railroad.

A Harbin dispatch contains the important announcement that the Japanese have occupied Siaoheyho, west of the Liao river, from which they are evidently threatening Simintin.

The likelihood of the appointment of Grand Duke Nicholas Nikolaievitch as commander-in-chief is increasing. The grand duke has informed the officers of the regiment of dragoons of which he is the honorary colonel, of the probability of his going to the far East, adding that he would take the regiment with him as his bodyguard.

The return of Viceroy Alexieff is practically certain, and there is good reason to believe that he will succeed Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who may be appointed a member of the council of the empire.

CONGRESS OF LAWYERS ENDS.

Delegates Hope for the Eventual Extinction of War.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—The first convention of the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists concluded Friday, after three days of presentation and discussion of legal propositions of world-wide interest, chief of which was the ultimate establishment of international peace and abolishment of all conflict.

Associate Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States supreme court, president of the congress, expressed the sentiment that the hopes of the prime movers of the congress in its success had been fully realized.

The opinion was expressed generally by the distinguished delegates from every nation represented that the congress marked an epoch in the relations existing between the lawyers of the world, which relationship would be for-reaching in finally establishing a complete understanding between nations, leading to the eventual extinction of war.

TRINIDAD IS FLOODED

HIGH WATER DOES GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN THE COLORADO CITY.

NO LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED

BUT SEVERAL INHABITANTS OF THE LAS ANIMAS RIVER VALLEY ARE MISSING.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 1.—A terrific flood struck Trinidad and the whole valley along the whole Las Animas river, doing great damage and causing a money loss which at present cannot be estimated, but which will reach $1,000,000. So far as known there was no loss of life, but several persons are reported missing and there were many narrow escapes. Every bridge in Trinidad is out, the Santa Fe station is demolished, all the railways are tied up and the telephone and telegraphic services completely suspended. More than thirty city blocks in the residence and business portions were from two to three feet under water along the river. The flood was caused by the heavy rain, which has been falling for two days.

At 8 o'clock Thursday night the storm assumed cloudburst proportions and at 2 o'clock Friday morning the Las Animas river went over its banks. At 3:30 it was impossible to get within a block of the river bed at any point and Commercial street was flooded for three blocks in the heart of the business district.

Meantime the electric light and gas plants had been flooded and the city was in complete darkness. Hundreds of citizens thronged the streets on the edge of the submerged district carrying lanterns and doing their best to provide for those driven from their homes without shelter. Warning of the flood was given when the river left its banks by revolver shots and the ringing of the fire alarm, followed by the blowing of all the locomotives and shop whistles in town. Citizens upon rafts made out of sections of sidewalks paddled through the streets, relieving persons who were in danger. The new depot, a two-story building, nearing completion on the river bank, was completely destroyed. The water was soon five feet in the Santa Fe depot, which was also carried away. Carden hotel, adjoining, barely escaped a similar fate, an acre of ground being washed away around it. The high bridge at El Morro is out, and the Santa Fe right of way in many places has been washed out. Railway traffic is entirely suspended and business here is paralyzed.

WISCONSIN COURT ADJOURNS.

Will Not Act Upon Lafollette Case Before Oct. 18.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—The supreme court adjourned until Oct. 18 without taking action on the Lafollette case. The failure of the supreme court to take action in the case renders it imperative that a decision be handed down either on Oct. 18, the date to which the adjournment was taken, or the day following.

Under the statutes of Wisconsin the secretary of state is bound to certify to the various county clerks the names of the nominees in not more than twenty days and not less than fourteen days prior to the election, which this year comes on Nov. 8. There is no restraining order in effect at the present time against the secretary of state and unless the court should decide the case by Oct. 18, Secretary of State Houser will be free to certify to the county clerks the names of the Lafollette candidates, of which he himself is one.

Slatery's gambling house Friday a man who has not been identified killed John Loftus, wounded two other men and then committed suicide by shooting himself in the mouth. PARKER AND GORMAN CONFERENCE.

Go Over the Plans for the Democratic Campaign.

New York, Oct. 1.—Judge Parker took the 6:45 p. m. train last night from Weekawken for Esopus. He is expected to return here next Monday. Senator Gorman of Maryland visited the judge again Friday, and during the hour he spent with the Democratic nominee they went over together all that has been done during the campaign and all that has been contemplated. Their discussion, it is said, had to do largely with the reconciliations among the many elements of the Democratic party which have not been in harmony.

Neither Judge Parker nor Senator Gorman, who is connected with the national campaign in an advisory capacity, is giving attention to details. The important and broad questions, the movement to bring out Democratic votes, the measures which are necessary to bring factions together, and the steps that would be taken to further unite the party are the questions which engrossed the candidate and the senator Friday.

Party leaders express themselves as highly pleased with the visits to New York of Judge Parker, as tending to bring about even more harmonious relations.

At Democratic headquarters it was announced that Grover Cleveland would make no speeches in the present campaign.

Esopus, Oct. 1.—Judge Parker arrived at Rosemount at 8:40 p. m. He will spend Saturday and Sunday at his home and return to New York on Monday.

FAIRBANKS TALKS IN TACOMA.

Discusses the Settlement of Alaskan Boundary Dispute.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 1.—In his speech here Friday night Senator Fairbanks discussed at some length the settlement of the Alaskan boundary dispute. Importance was attached to his utterances on the subject because of his position as chairman of the high joint commission and not alone because of his candidacy for the vice presidency. Zest was lent to the discussion, because Former Senator Turner, who was a member of the commission by which the adjustment was made, is now the Democratic candidate for governor of this state. Senator Fairbanks reviewed the history of the Alaskan boundary dispute and its settlement in accordance with the contention of the United States. This peaceful and honorable ending of a great international question he claimed was a great achievement of the Republican administration and of President Roosevelt.

The speech was delivered at the Tacoma theater and to a meeting of huge proportions, over which Senator Foster presided. During the day the party crossed the state, arriving in this city at 6:30. The speeches of the day were made at Prosser, North Yakima, Ellensburg, CleElum and Auburn and in Tacoma at night.

THE ELECTION IN CANADA.

Three Prominent Issues Placed Before the Voters.

St. Johns, N. B., Oct. 1.—A general election canvass is under way throughout Canada, the federal cabinet having dissolved parliament and ordered polling to be held on Nov. 3.

The Conservatives have brought three prominent issues to the front. The first is the construction of a trans-continental railroad by the Grand Trunk company with government aid, against which project in its present form they have taken a pronounced stand.

Another issue is the dismissal of Lord Dundonald, commander of the Canadian militia, by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration. The Conservative party sides with the Scotch earl and is endeavoring to influence the great body of voters of Scotch descent.

The third is the political situation in Ontario, where the Liberal government of Premier Ross is in the balance as the result of the unseating of members for alleged corrupt acts on the part of agents.

The prosperity of the country is the leading card put forward on behalf of the Liberals who assert that the Grand Trunk project is a necessary outcome of this prosperity and of the remarkable development of the West.

Will Not Act Upon Lafollette Case Before Oct. 18.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—The supreme court adjourned until Oct. 18 without taking action on the Lafollette case. The failure of the supreme court to take action in the case renders it imperative that a decision be handed down either on Oct. 18, the date to which the adjournment was taken, or the day following.

Under the statutes of Wisconsin the secretary of state is bound to certify to the various county clerks the names of the nominees in not more than twenty days prior to the election, which this year comes on Nov. 8. There is no restraining order in effect at the present time against the secretary of state and unless the court should decide the case by Oct. 18, Secretary of State Houser will be free to certify to the county clerks the names of the Lafollette candidates, of which he himself is one.

PARKER AND GORMAN CONFERENCE.

Go Over the Plans for the Democratic Campaign.

New York, Oct. 1.—Judge Parker took the 6:45 p. m. train last night from Weekawken for Esopus. He is expected to return here next Monday. Senator Gorman of Maryland visited the judge again Friday, and during the hour he spent with the Democratic nominee they went over together all that has been done during the campaign and all that has been contemplated. Their discussion, it is said, had to do largely with the reconciliations among the many elements of the Democratic party which have not been in harmony.

Neither Judge Parker nor Senator Gorman, who is connected with the national campaign in an advisory capacity, is giving attention to details. The important and broad questions, the movement to bring out Democratic votes, the measures which are necessary to bring factions together, and the steps that would be taken to further unite the party are the questions which engrossed the candidate and the senator Friday.

Party leaders express themselves as highly pleased with the visits to New York of Judge Parker, as tending to bring about even more harmonious relations.

At Democratic headquarters it was announced that Grover Cleveland would make no speeches in the present campaign.

Esopus, Oct. 1.—Judge Parker arrived at Rosemount at 8:40 p. m. He will spend Saturday and Sunday at his home and return to New York on Monday.

FAIRBANKS TALKS IN TACOMA.

Discusses the Settlement of Alaskan Boundary Dispute.

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 1.—In his speech here Friday night Senator Fairbanks discussed at some length the settlement of the Alaskan boundary dispute. Importance was attached to his utterances on the subject because of his position as chairman of the high joint commission and not alone because of his candidacy for the vice presidency. Zest was lent to the discussion, because former Senator Turner, who was a member of the commission by which the adjustment was made, is now the Democratic candidate for governor of this state. Senator Fairbanks reviewed the history of the Alaskan boundary dispute and its settlement in accordance with the contention of the United States. This peaceful and honorable ending of a great international question he claimed was a great achievement of the Republican administration and of President Roosevelt.

The speech was delivered at the Tacoma theater and to a meeting of huge proportions, over which Senator Foster presided. During the day the party crossed the state, arriving in this city at 6:30. The speeches of the day were made at Prosser, North Yakima, Ellensburg, CleElum and Auburn and in Tacoma at night.

THE ELECTION IN CANADA.

Three Prominent Issues Placed Before the Voters.

St. Johns, N. B., Oct. 1.—A general election canvass is under way throughout Canada, the federal cabinet having dissolved parliament and ordered polling to be held on Nov. 3.

The Conservatives have brought three prominent issues to the front. The first is the construction of a transcontinental railroad by the Grand Trunk company with government aid, against which project in its present form they have taken a pronounced stand.

Another issue is the dismissal of Lord Dundonald, commander of the Canadian militia, by Sir Wilfrid Laurier's administration. The Conservative party sides with the Scotch earl and is endeavoring to influence the great body of voters of Scotch descent.

The third is the political situation in Ontario, where the Liberal government of Premier Ross is in the balance as the result of the unseating of members for alleged corrupt acts on the part of agents.

The prosperity of the country is the leading card put forward on behalf of the Liberals who assert that the Grand Trunk project is a necessary outcome of this prosperity and of the remarkable development of the West.

ADVANCE ON MUKDEN

ARMIES OF OYAMA MOVE FORWARD TO ATTACK FORCES OF KUROPATKIN.

VICTORY FOR THE JAPANESE

RUSSIAN TROOPS SAID TO HAVE BEEN DEFEATED IN GENERAL ENGAGEMENT.

Field Marshal Oyama has begun the long expected advance upon the Russian army at Mukden and a coincident move against Sinmintin is indicated by the fact that the Japanese have occupied Siaoheyho, west of the Liao river. There is a concentration of Japanese forces in the vicinity of the Yental mines and the advance lines are gradually pushed eastward. General Sakharoff, in the dispatches to the war office at St. Petersburg, reports success in several engagements of a minor character.

According to the London Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent, it is reported that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden, but the story is regarded as premature.

An undated dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters reports the present Japanese military organization to be as efficient as it has been at any time since the war began.

There is no definite news from Port Arthur.

Change in the Russian minister of marine and naval commanders are announced on high authority. The new head of the admiralty, it is said, will be Vice Admiral Doubasoff, an officer of wide experience in war and the present head of the technical bureau of the ministry of marine.

JAPANESE TROOPS REPORTED TO HAVE WON A BIG BATTLE AT MUKDEN.

London, Oct. 1.—According to the Morning Post's Shanghai correspondent it is reported there that the Japanese have been victorious in a general engagement at Mukden.

REORGANIZATION OF THE NAVY.

Russia Making Several Changes of High Officials.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The reorganization of the navy, which has been foreshadowed by the Associated Press, begins with the announcement on the highest authority that Vice Admiral Doubasoff, the present head of the technical bureau of the admiralty, will be appointed minister of marine. Vice Admiral Avelan, whom he will succeed, will be given the honorary post of chief of the Red Cross society, succeeding Admiral Kremer, who died recently. Vice Admiral Rojstvensky will return to St. Petersburg to assume active charge of the naval staff, a position from which he could ill be spared. The Pacific squadron will be entrusted to Rear Admiral Chouknin, the present chief of the Black Sea fleet. Admiral Birileff will be transferred from the Baltic to the Black sea, while Veselago, hitherto Admiral Birileff's assistant, will take charge of the Baltic ports fleet.

Vice Admiral Doubasoff enjoys the highest esteem of officers of the Russian navy. He is a man of the highest ability and energy.

GREAT CHANGE HAS OCCURRED.

Japs Appear Anxious to Be on the Defensive.

Mukden, Oct. 1.—A great change in the situation here has occurred. The Japanese now appear anxious to act on the defensive, and have fortified a position northwest of the Yental mines. According to the best estimates obtainable, the Japanese army confronting General Kuropatkin comprises a grand total of 180 battalions. Allowing 800 men to a battalion there are 144,000 infantry. In addition there are 6,300 cavalry and 638 guns. The distribution of the Japanese forces is as follows: One division at Bentzhatze, two divisions at the Yental mines, four divisions on the railway a little north of Liaoyang, one division westward near Hameadense and one division at Sandepu.

Russians estimate the Japanese forces at the following strength: General Kuroki, 76 battalions of infantry, 18 squadrons of cavalry and 276 guns. General Oku's army consists of 60 battalions of infantry, 26 squadrons of cavalry and 242 guns. General Nodzu commands 44 battalions of infantry, 9 squadrons of cavalry and 120 guns.

SIEGE MAY BE PROTRACTED.

Japs May Not Again Attempt to Take Port Arthur by Storm.

London, Oct. 1.—The failure of the latest Japanese attempt to drive out the Port Arthur fleet and reduce the fortress has led, according to the Daily Telegraph's Chefoo correspondent, to the decision that the Japanese must go into quarters. Japanese officers admitting that General Stoessel is making a superb stand.

"Accordingly," the correspondent

says, "permanent fortifications affording excellent shelter are being constructed outside the Russian main line of defenses and warm clothing is being brought up for the troops. Reinforcements are continually arriving. Finding it impossible to hold outer forts, even when they are captured, owing to the enfilading fire, the only alternative left the Japanese is to cut off supplies and communications."

The Morning Post's report of a general engagement, in which the Japanese were victorious, at Mukden, is not confirmed in any quarter.

BANDITS WRECK THE RAILROAD.

Chinese Brigands Harrass Russians Near Harbin.

Harbin, Oct. 1.—Russian scouts have ascertained that fresh Japanese forces are concentrating at the Yental mines and gradually moving eastward. A strong Japanese force west of the Liao valley has occupied Siaoheyho, south of Sinmintin. A company of Chinese bandits Thursday night attempted to wreck the railroad near the station of Fantziantun, 150 miles south of Harbin. They killed a sentinel and caused slight damage. A detachment of guards was sent in pursuit of the bandits. The railway track was repaired by morning.

WILD RUMORS AFLOAT.

Russians in St. Petersburg Agitated Over Alarming Reports.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The city is full of rumors. It is persistently stated that riots have occurred at Odessa, and that cavalry charges were necessary to disperse crowds that had assembled at the station shouting "down with the war," when the imperial train arrived. Another wild rumor is that the czar-vitch is dead. There is not the slightest foundation for these stories. The imperial infant is in the best of health.

ENTIRE LINE MOVING

JAPANESE ARMIES ADVANCE ON RUSSIANS AT MUKDEN IN FULL FORCE.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 1.—The war office at a late hour of the night gave out a telegram from General Sakharoff, dated Sept. 30, describing a successful onslaught upon a Japanese guard near Yental on Sept. 28. The Japanese began the fight by attacking a position held by the Russians at Oulitaidze, twenty miles south of the Hun river. The Russians withdrew and then counterattacked and occupied the enemy's position at Toumytsa, north of Yental, and drove the Japanese as far as Yental station, losing four men wounded, whereas the Japanese lost 20 killed or wounded.

General Sakharoff further reports that a reconnaissance on Sept. 29 showed that the Japanese force was concentrating in increasing numbers along the Yental branch of the railroad, and that there is also considerable concentration of the Japanese along the Taitse river near Bensihu.

General Sakharoff's telegram as given to the press contains no mention of developments on the Eastern flank. It is admitted that the Japanese advance has already begun along the whole line, assuming its most active form in the East, whither Field Marshal Oyama continues to draft large forces. Operations are also progressing west of the railroad.

A Harbin dispatch contains the important announcement that the Japanese have occupied Siaoheyho, west of the Liao river, from which they are evidently threatening Sinmintin. The likelihood of the appointment of Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasievitch as commander-in-chief is increasing. The grand duke has informed the officers of the regiment of dragons of which he is the honorary colonel, of the probability of his going to the far East, adding that he would take the regiment with him as his bodyguard.

The return of Viceroy Alexieff is practically certain, and there is good reason to believe that he will succeed Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, who may be appointed a member of the council of the empire.

CONGRESS OF LAWYERS ENDS.

Delegates Hope for the Eventual Extinction of War.

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—The first convention of the Universal Congress of Lawyers and Jurists concluded Friday, after three days of presentation and discussion of legal propositions of world-wide interest, chief of which was the ultimate establishment of international peace and abolishment of all conflict.

Associate Justice David J. Brewer, of the United States supreme court, president of the congress, expressed the sentiment that the hopes of the prime movers of the congress in its success had been fully realized.

The opinion was expressed generally by the distinguished delegates from every nation represented that the congress marked an epoch in the relations existing between the lawyers of the world, which relationship would be far-reaching in finally establishing a complete understanding between nations, leading to the eventual extinction of war.

TRINIDAD IS FLOODED

HIGH WATER DOES GREAT DAMAGE TO PROPERTY IN THE COLORADO CITY.

NO LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED

BUT SEVERAL INHABITANTS OF THE LAS ANIMAS RIVER VALLEY ARE MISSING.

Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 1.—A terrific flood struck Trinidad and the whole valley along the whole Las Animas river, doing great damage and causing a money loss which at present cannot be estimated, but which will reach $1,000,000. So far as known there was no loss of life, but several persons are reported missing and there were many narrow escapes. Every bridge in Trinidad is out, the Santa Fe station is demolished, all the railways are tied up and the telephone and telegraphic services completely suspended. More than thirty city blocks in the residence and business portions were from two to three feet under water along the river. The flood was caused by the heavy rain, which has been falling for two days.

At 8 o'clock Thursday night the storm assumed cloudburst proportions and at 2 o'clock Friday morning the Las Animas river went over its banks. At 3:30 it was impossible to get within a block of the river bed at any point and Commercial street was flooded for three blocks in the heart of the business district.

Meantime the electric light and gas plants had been flooded and the city was in complete darkness. Hundreds of citizens thronged the streets on the edge of the submerged district carrying lanterns and doing their best to provide for those driven from their homes without shelter. Warning of the flood was given when the river left its banks by revolver shots and the ringing of the fire alarm, followed by the blowing of all the locomotives and shop whistles in town. Citizens upon rafts made out of sections of sidewalks paddled through the streets, relieving persons who were in danger. The new depot, a two-story building, nearing completion on the river bank, was completely destroyed. The water was soon five feet in the Santa Fe depot, which was also carried away. Carden hotel, adjoining, barely escaped a similar fate, an acre of ground being washed away around it. The high bridge at El Morro is out, and the Santa Fe right of way in many places has been washed out. Railway traffic is entirely suspended and business here is paralyzed.

WISCONSIN COURT ADJOURNS.

Will Not Act Upon Lafollette Case Before Oct. 18.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 1.—The supreme court adjourned until Oct. 18 without taking action on the Lafollette case. The failure of the supreme court to take action in the case renders it imperative that a decision be handed down either on Oct. 18, the date to which the adjournment was taken, or the day following.

Under the statutes of Wisconsin the secretary of state is bound to certify to the various county clerks the names of the nominees in not more than twenty days and not less than fourteen days prior to the election, which this year comes on Nov. 8. There is no restraining order in effect at the present time against the secretary of state and unless the court should decide the case by Oct. 18, Secretary of State Housner will be free to certify to the county clerks the names of the Lafollette candidates, of which he himself is one.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

As the majority rules and C. B. Buckman was the choice of the republican party at the primaries last week for our representative in congress, let all the republicans in the district now join and elect him in November by the largest majority that was ever given any candidate in this district.—Pequot Enterprise.

RIGHT SORT OF A MAN.

The only republican candidate for state senator in Minnesota at the coming election is John T. Frater of Brainerd, who is a candidate for election in Crow Wing and Morrison counties, to fill the term made vacant by the death of Senator Ferris. Mr. Frater is the right sort of a man to be elected—absolutely honest, with excellent ability and a good knowledge of public affairs, and who will take pardonable pride in making an excellent record as a servant of the people. He will never be found in a "combine of grafters," and his election will be approved by every citizen who wants to see a high type of gentleman elected to public office.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

A CAMPAIGN CANARD.

The Brainerd Tribune in its today's issue says:

A report has been circulated, evidently for the purpose of injuring John T. Frater's candidacy for the State Senate, to the effect that Mr. Frater intends leaving Brainerd next spring and expects to locate in Washington State. For the purpose of ascertaining the exact truth in regard to the persistent talk of Mr. Frater's remaining here only for the purpose of serving a term in the senate, THE TRIBUNE yesterday sought him out and asked him if he had any such intention.

"There is absolutely not a word of truth in this talk," said Mr. Frater. "I haven't the least idea of leaving Brainerd, whether I am elected senator or not, but I do certainly expect to be elected. I don't know why I shouldn't be."

"Why," he continued, "my interests are all here. I have two good farms here, which I don't want to sell, as they are steadily increasing in value. I have a well defined plan of going into business at the expiration of my term as county treasurer. The friends and acquaintances I have made in the sixteen years I have been county treasurer, and in more than twenty years that I have lived here, will be invaluable to me from a business standpoint, and the pleasant associations I have formed here are not to be lightly disregarded. It would be foolish for me, at my age, to leave all this behind and go to a new country to form new friendships and new associations. I really do not think I could ever be satisfied anywhere else now but in Brainerd, I have been here so long."

"No, you cannot make it too emphatic. I'm not going to leave Brainerd. I'm going out of the treasurer's office, of course; I have held the office for sixteen years, long enough for one man, isn't it? At all events I am tired of the routine work of the office, and I am going into business in Brainerd early next spring."

And all who know "Honest John" Frater will believe him, knowing that he is as truthful as he is honest and sincere.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

As the majority rules and C. B. Buckman was the choice of the republican party at the primaries last week for our representative in congress, let all the republicans in the district now join and elect him in November by the largest majority that was ever given any candidate in this district.—Pequot Enterprise.

RIGHT SORT OF A MAN.

The only republican candidate for state senator in Minnesota at the coming election is John T. Frater of Brainerd, who is a candidate for election in Crow Wing and Morrison counties, to fill the term made vacant by the death of Senator Ferris. Mr. Frater is the right sort of a man to be elected—absolutely honest, with excellent ability and a good knowledge of public affairs, and who will take pardonable pride in making an excellent record as a servant of the people. He will never be found in a "combine of grafters," and his election will be approved by every citizen who wants to see a high type of gentleman elected to public office.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

A CAMPAIGN CANARD.

The Brainerd Tribune in its today's issue says:

A report has been circulated, evidently for the purpose of injuring John T. Frater's candidacy for the State Senate, to the effect that Mr. Frater intends leaving Brainerd next spring and expects to locate in Washington State. For the purpose of ascertaining the exact truth in regard to the persistent talk of Mr. Frater's remaining here only for the purpose of serving a term in the senate, THE TRIBUNE yesterday sought him out and asked him if he had any such intention.

"There is absolutely not a word of truth in this talk," said Mr. Frater. "I haven't the least idea of leaving Brainerd, whether I am elected senator or not, but I do certainly expect to be elected. I don't know why I shouldn't be."

"Why," he continued, "my interests are all here. I have two good farms here, which I don't want to sell, as they are steadily increasing in value. I have a well defined plan of going into business at the expiration of my term as county treasurer. The friends and acquaintances I have made in the sixteen years I have been county treasurer, and in more than twenty years that I have lived here, will be invaluable to me from a business standpoint, and the pleasant associations I have formed here are not to be lightly disregarded. It would be foolish for me, at my age, to leave all this behind and go to a new country to form new friendships and new associations. I really do not think I could ever be satisfied anywhere else now but in Brainerd, I have been here so long."

"No, you cannot make it too emphatic. I'm not going to leave Brainerd. I'm going out of the treasurer's office, of course; I have held the office for sixteen years, long enough for one man, isn't it? At all events I am tired of the routine work of the office, and I am going into business in Brainerd early next spring."

And all who know "Honest John" Frater will believe him, knowing that he is as truthful as he is honest and sincere.

JAPANESE LACQUER.

Some of It Is So Expensive That It Seldom Reaches Us.

In the hilly country two industries come to help agriculture—namely, silk raising and lacquer. To name only one district, the villages along the Nakasendo have gained much by modern improvements in silk raising. The lacquer tree may possibly have been imported from China, as so many other trees and plants were, but it certainly was known and used in Japan at a very early period. We are used to thinking of it as ornament only. It is that and much more besides, for plain lacquer bowls and trays are almost necessities of daily life. They raise most of what is used in certain provinces, but Tokyo imports a good deal of juice to be manufactured there.

The tree is a species of rhus, closely allied to our poison ivy and having the same power to produce an irritating rash on the skin. The workers get over this, however, and do not have it again, but they say that people sometimes get it from handling bowls or trays which have not been dried long enough.

To get the sap the farmer cuts a notch in the side of each tree, and after a time a thick juice oozes out; then the farmer goes around with a wooden spatula gathering the drops into a pail. It will keep for a long while, but must not be allowed to dry up nor to be heated above a certain point, for it contains a peculiar acid which causes the juice to ferment and harden. The pieces that have been varnished must therefore be dried in mild and moist air. Tokyo in August is usually just right, about 87 degrees.

A good piece of lacquer has to be most carefully made, in the first place, and then varnished with layer after layer, each being dried and polished before the next goes on. Certain pigments mixed with it give red, black or green. To apply gold a wash of varnish is laid where the design is to be and the gold powder sprinkled on from a hollow bamboo stick with a fine sieve over the end. When it is dry it must be revarnished and repolished over all. With all these repeated processes a fine piece may be on hand for months, even years. Naturally this is not the kind that is prepared for foreign export, for people abroad will not pay for it.—Anna C. Hartshorne in Chautauquan.

FEAST OF THE WHALE

AN ESKIMO BANQUET THAT MAY LAST A WHOLE DAY.

Incident of the Social Life Among the Natives of Arctic Alaska After the Hunting Season Is Over—The Return of the Fleet to Shore.

Writing of the industrial and social methods and customs of the Eskimos of arctic Alaska, Edward A. McIlhenny, in the Century, says:

The principal occupation of these Eskimos (of arctic Alaska) during the spring is the hunting of the bow head whale in the leads, or open water, and among the floe ice of the Arctic ocean. The taking of a whale is always a time of great rejoicing with these people, for it means not only an abundance of food and fuel, but a large amount of valuable trading material.

After the whaling season is over the boats which have been used in the chase are gathered on the leads between the pack and shore ice, which is often some miles from shore, at the foot of some road that has been cut through the rough ice from the land to the water. The most successful boat's crew, with their umiak (a whaling boat covered with skins), takes the lead, followed by the other boats in the order of their success. The harpoons, floats, paddles and everything pertaining to the chase of the whale are placed in their respective positions. The umiak is then placed on a flat ivory runner and lashed firmly in place. The owner, who is called omelle (headman), stands on the ice at the right hand side of the bow; the boat steerer stands at the stern and the paddlers stand at their respective places along the sides of the boat. When all is ready the omelle gives the word to go forward, and each of the crew slips over his shoulder a broad breast strap of sealskin, which is attached to a short line made fast to the thwart of the boat. When all is ready the boat is pulled forward a few lengths and the next boat in order goes through the same form, moving on in its turn, until all the umiaks are strung out in a long line on the grounded ice ready for their return to land.

At a signal from the head boat all move forward, chanting weird songs of the goodness and power of the whale, for one of the superstitions of these people is that whenever working on any object to be used in whaling or doing anything connected with whaling they must constantly extol the merits of this great animal.

Long before the boats reach shore the entire population left in the village—men, women, children and dogs—congregate on the beach to welcome the home comers. When the first boat nears land it is brought to a halt a few feet from the shore line, and its tal-

man, which is always carried in a little pouch in the bow and may be a wolf's head, the head of a raven, iron pyrites or any odd thing, is lifted out by the omelle and held in his right hand toward the shore, where stands the chief medicine man of the tribe, who pours over it a little fresh water to refresh it and thank it for the benefits given, if the boat has secured a whale, or, if the boat has not been lucky, to appease any slight that may have been put upon the talisman, in the hope that it will give them better luck in the future.

After reaching shore a day or possibly two may be given for preparation, and then the great feast begins. Each successful boat owner, beginning with the one whose boat secured the most whales, gives a feast, to which he invites all the members of the tribe and any other people who may be in the village. First a wind break of umiaks, sails or skins is built to act as a shelter against the chilly blasts of the polar winds. It is placed in the form of a large circle if enough material can be secured, in the center of which a walrus hide is placed on the ground, and to its four corners are tied long ropes, which are passed over tripods placed about twenty-five feet from the skin. The ends of the ropes are then drawn tight and made fast with stout stakes driven into the ground, thus raising the skin about four feet. The skin thus becomes a platform some eight or ten feet square, which serves as a sort of movable stage on which the young women dance.

The feast usually begins at the time when the sun reaches a due western point, about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, for during the eighty days of summer at Otkavie the sun never sets, and, being without timepieces, the Eskimos mark their time by the position of the sun while it is visible and by the moon and stars when the sun has gone for the long arctic night. These feasts sometimes last twenty-four hours.

JAPANESE LACQUER.

Some of It Is So Expensive That It Seldom Reaches Us.

In the hilly country two industries come to help agriculture—namely, silk raising and lacquer. To name only one district, the villages along the Nakasendo have gained much by modern improvements in silk raising. The lacquer tree may possibly have been imported from China, as so many other trees and plants were, but it certainly was known and used in Japan at a very early period. We are used to thinking of it as ornament only. It is that and much more besides, for plain lacquer bowls and trays are almost necessities of daily life. They raise most of what is used in certain provinces, but Tokyo imports a good deal of lacquer to be manufactured there.

The tree is a species of rhus, closely allied to our poison ivy and having the same power to produce an irritating rash on the skin. The workers get over this, however, and do not have it again, but they say that people sometimes get it from handling bowls or trays which have not been dried long enough.

To get the sap the farmer cuts a notch in the side of each tree, and after a time a thick juice oozes out; then the farmer goes around with a wooden spatula gathering the drops into a pail. It will keep for a long while, but must not be allowed to dry up nor to be heated above a certain point, for it contains a peculiar acid which causes the juice to ferment and harden. The pieces that have been varnished must therefore be dried in mild and moist air. Tokyo in August is usually just right, about 87 degrees.

A good piece of lacquer has to be most carefully made, in the first place, and then varnished with layer after layer, each being dried and polished before the next goes on. Certain pigments mixed with it give red, black or green. To apply gold a wash of varnish is laid where the design is to be and the gold powder sprinkled on from a hollow bamboo stick with a fine sieve over the end. When it is dry it must be revarnished and repolished over all. With all these repeated processes a fine piece may be on hand for months, even years. Naturally this is not the kind that is prepared for foreign export, for people abroad will not pay for it.—Anna C. Hartshorne in Chautauquan.

FEAST OF THE WHALE

AN ESKIMO BANQUET THAT MAY LAST A WHOLE DAY.

Incident of the Social Life Among the Natives of Arctic Alaska After the Hunting Season Is Over—The Return of the Fleet to Shore.

Writing of the industrial and social methods and customs of the Eskimos of arctic Alaska, Edward A. McIlhenny, in the Century, says:

The principal occupation of these Eskimos (of arctic Alaska) during the spring is the hunting of the bow head whale in the leads, or open water, and among the floe ice of the Arctic ocean. The taking of a whale is always a time of great rejoicing with these people, for it means not only an abundance of food and fuel, but a large amount of valuable trading material.

After the whaling season is over the boats which have been used in the chase are gathered on the leads between the pack and shore ice, which is often some miles from shore, at the foot of some road that has been cut through the rough ice from the land to the water. The most successful boat's crew, with their umiak (a whaling boat covered with skins), takes the lead, followed by the other boats in the order of their success. The harpoons, floats, paddles and everything pertaining to the chase of the whale are placed in their respective positions. The umiak is then placed on a flat ivory runner sled and lashed firmly in place. The owner, who is called omelle (headman), stands on the ice at the right hand side of the bow; the boat steerer stands at the stern and the paddlers stand at their respective places along the sides of the boat. When all is ready the omelle gives the word to go forward, and each of the crew slips over his shoulder a broad breast strap of sealskin, which is attached to a short line made fast to the thwart of the boat. When all is ready the boat is pulled forward a few lengths and the next boat in order goes through the same form, moving on in its turn, until all the umiaks are strung out in a long line on the grounded ice ready for their return to land.

At a signal from the head boat all move forward, chanting weird songs of the goodness and power of the whale, for one of the superstitions of these people is that whenever working on any object to be used in whaling or doing anything connected with whaling they must constantly extol the merits of this great animal.

Long before the boats reach shore the entire population left in the village—men, women, children and dogs—congregate on the beach to welcome the home comers. When the first boat nears land it is brought to a halt a few feet from the shore line, and its tal-

ism, which is always carried in a little pouch in the bow and may be a wolf's head, the head of a raven, iron pyrites or any odd thing, is lifted out by the omelle and held in his right hand toward the shore, where stands the chief medicine man of the tribe, who pours over it a little fresh water to refresh it and thank it for the benefits given, if the boat has secured a whale, or, if the boat has not been lucky, to appease any slight that may have been put upon the talisman, in the hope that it will give them better luck in the future.

After reaching shore a day or possibly two may be given for preparation, and then the great feast begins. Each successful boat owner, beginning with the one whose boat secured the most whales, gives a feast, to which he invites all the members of the tribe and any other people who may be in the village. First a wind break of umiaks, sails or skins is built to act as a shelter against the chilly blasts of the polar winds. It is placed in the form of a large circle if enough material can be secured, in the center of which a walrus hide is placed on the ground, and to its four corners are tied long ropes, which are passed over tripods placed about twenty-five feet from the skin. The ends of the ropes are then drawn tight and made fast with stout stakes driven into the ground, thus raising the skin about four feet. The skin thus becomes a platform some eight or ten feet square, which serves as a sort of movable stage on which the young women dance.

The feast usually begins at the time when the sun reaches a due western point, about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, for during the eighty days of summer at Okeavik the sun never sets, and, being without timepieces, the Eskimos mark their time by the position of the sun while it is visible and by the moon and stars when the sun has gone for the long arctic night. These feasts sometimes last twenty-four hours.

His Coat of Arms.

"Now that you are wealthy, Mr. C.," said the man who deals in pedigrees and the like, "you really should begin to adopt a coat of arms."

"I'll do just as I please," retorted Mr. C. hotly. "If I like to go about in my shirt sleeves, that ain't none o' your business!"

Insanity, Death or Health?

No. 2807 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo., March 29, 1903.

I was a victim of sleeplessness and extreme nervousness for eighteen months, unable to get a proper night's rest and feeling tired and worn out continually. I was easily irritated and hysterical at the slightest provocation, but Wine of Cardui gave me great relief. Within a week after I began using it I had my first real good night's rest that I had had for months. My appetite was soon restored, my general system toned up and nervousness became a thing of the past.

I am so pleased to acknowledge the great curative merit of your health giving medicine and gladly endorse it.

Harriet O. Best
CHAIRMAN, LADIES OF HONOR, No. 97.

WINE of CARDUI

We want to call your attention to the complete and immediate relief Mrs. Best secured by taking Wine of Cardui. Within a week after she began taking Wine of Cardui, Mrs. Best had her first good night's rest for eighteen months. Her restlessness was caused by nervousness and Wine of Cardui, as the best menstrual regulator, has no superior in the world as a medicine to soothe a woman's nerves. Nervousness and hysteria are warnings of the approach of insanity and if relief is not secured the end can only be the asylum or the grave. With such an outlook as this before her, no suffering woman can reasonably refuse to give Wine of Cardui a trial. It brings a cure that thousands of women have sought for in vain. Will you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui today and start treatment?

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles Wine of Cardui.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE IS REPORTED TO BE VERY DAN-GEROUSLY ILL.

HEART ACTION IS IRREGULAR

HEROIC REMEDIES NECESSARY
TO KEEP THE FAMOUS PA-TIENT ALIVE.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The condition
of Postmaster General Payne, whose
serious illness was announced Thursday night, continued extremely grave
throughout Friday. There were times
during the day, notably in the early
morning and late in the afternoon,
when the attending physicians believed the end was near at hand, but
the patient responded to the heroic
remedies applied and seemed to regain
some of the lost ground. Last night
at about 8 o'clock Mr. Payne fell into a restful sleep, which continued for some time. The doctors regarded this
as encouraging for a peaceful night.

Several bulletins were issued by the physicians during the day and all of
them indicated the critical condition
of the patient.

The greatest cause of alarm was the
feebleness of the heart action and it
was found necessary to administer
saline solution and nitro-glycerin to stimulate that organ. Only moderately severe doses were given, however,
and in most cases the result was
gratifying.

The most hopeful sign is that although his stomach has always been a weak spot to him, he was able to retain nourishment Friday.

Mind Is Active and Alert.

During the sinking spells, several of
which occurred Friday and last evening, Mr. Payne retained consciousness
throughout and his mind seemed to be active and alert. He asked frequent questions of those about him, indicating an interest in what was transpir-
ing. One or more physicians are constantly at the postmaster general's bedside, but aside from them and the nurse, no one except Mrs. Payne has been allowed in the sickroom. Mrs.
Payne, although very much over-
wrought by the condition of her husband, has borne up bravely.

Dr. William Osler, the heart specialist and diagnostician of Baltimore,
was brought into the case last even-
ing. He remained for about an hour
and joined the other physicians in
signing the 7 o'clock bulletin. Dr.
Osler said that while Mr. Payne's condition was critical, he had hopes that
with a restful night he would show
improvement in the morning. At the same time, he added, the case was
like a "tip in the balance—it might go
one way or the other."

Everywhere in official circles Friday the deepest concern and solicitude
was manifested in the outcome. The president is being kept constantly advised during the day and both he and Mrs. Roosevelt have called in person
during the day and evening.

At 2.25 a. m. Mr. Payne appeared to be resting quietly.

RED LAKE INDIAN LANDS.

About Six Thousand Acres to Be Opened for Settlement.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Congressman
Steenerson saw Commissioner Richards of the general land office Friday
and asked that certain tracts of land
in the Red Lake and other reservations in Minnesota heretofore reserved
from settlement be thrown open to settlement. The commissioner directed
the preparation of lists of such lands,
aggregating about 6,000 acres, and
they will be opened in accordance with the terms of the Nelson act. They will be advertised for thirty days, at the end of which time settlers will be permitted to make entry. They will be required to comply with the general
homestead law as to residence and
cultivation and will have to pay $1.25
an acre for their holdings at the end
of the residence period.

THROWN FROM A CARRIAGE.

One Woman Killed and Three Others
Injured.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 1.—Four
women were thrown from a carriage
Friday by the shying of a frightened
horse, and Mrs. D. McDonald was instantly killed. Mrs. Vansycle was
badly injured about the face and head.
Miss Elizabeth Anderson was bruised
and internal injuries are feared; Mrs.
C. F. Holmes was slightly bruised. The women were in Mrs. McDonald's carriage and were driving near the new street railway tracks. The horse took fright at a spool of wire and turned
the rig. Mrs. McDonald fell with her head against a pole and her skull was crushed. She was dead before she could be lifted from the ground.

INDIANS ATTACK CAMPS.

Many Persons Killed and Wounded in Southern Mexico.

New York, Oct. 1.—Advises received by mail from a correspondent
of the Herald at Belize, British Hon-
duras, says:

"In the recent attack by Indians on the camps of chewing gum gatherers
in Southern Mexico 17 persons were killed, 18 wounded and 57 more either murdered or carried into captivity."

Young Wife Kills Himself.

Huron, S. D., Oct. 1.—The wife of Robert Weinhelm died Friday afternoon from the effects of carbolic acid,
drunk with suicidal intent. No cause
is assigned. She was twenty-four years old, and married Weinhelm last June.

Pioneer Nebraska Editor Dead.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 1.—Charles H.
Gere, editor of the Nebraska State
Journal, died at his home in this city
last night from neuritis of the heart, aged sixty-seven. Mr. Gere was one of the pioneers of the state.

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE.

Certain State Food Commissioners
Accused of Accepting Bribes.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—As a result of charges of bribery preferred against certain state food commissioners by
T. N. Barrett, editor of a New York
trade journal, at Thursday's session of the International Pure Food congress, a committee of investigation
was appointed and instructed to go over the ground with Mr. Barrett and conduct a thorough inquiry.

Mr. Barrett asserted that he could prove that certain state food commissioners accepted emoluments in return for extending immunity from the provisions of the pure food laws of the
different states.

The meeting also developed a number of interesting discussions on the subject of adulterated food products.

ACTION IN GURNEY CASE.

Judgment Vacated and Fines Imposed
Remitted.

Boston, Sept. 30.—After allowing
time for the communications in the Phelps-Gurney case to reach Washington Governor Bates has made public
various letters bearing on the subject.
The governor informed the state department that the judgment against Third Secretary Gurney of the British embassy has been vacated and the fines imposed remitted. He says that Judge Phelps had expressed regret to
the secretary by letter, a copy of which
he forwards, together with a statement by Judge Phelps. Governor Bates suggests that the attention of the British ambassador be called to
the breach of the laws of Massachusetts under the belief that the ambassador will take such action as the case may demand.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT ENDED.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 30.—Parliament

eral election will take place on Nov.
3. The leading issue will probably be the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, which
has received favorable legislation
from the government. The proposed route for the Grand Trunk Pacific is about 250 miles north of the Canadian Pacific.

is contemplated.

Show Improvement on Steady and Conservative Lines.

New York, Oct. 1.—Bradstreet's
weekly review of trade says the word
"improvement" summarizes briefly the
course of trade and general industry
this week. Although the movements
as for a time past are along conservative lines, the outlook is rather more
optimistic than at any previous time
this season. Reasons for this are found in the continuance of propitious
weather conditions, a tendency to en-
large final estimates of grain crop
yields, more activity in pig iron and
better collections, based upon enlarged
crop movement. Confirmation of these reports is found in indicated increases
in bank clearings, both in New York
and outside thereof, as compared with September a year ago and in continued
gains aggregating 5 per cent in gross
railway earnings over 1903. Money is,
on the whole firmer, reflecting belated
crop movements necessities. A striking absence of political agitation as
affecting trade is noted and the feeling
generally is that the year will close
better than it began.

Notable features are the improvement in jobbing trade at nearly all
Western points in dry goods, shoes,
groceries, millinery, hardware, paints
and drugs. Reports of better collections are very general.

New York, Oct. 1.—After twenty-

o'clock called all the men and apparatus away from the ruins of a block of
meat packing and refrigerating plants
in West Fourteenth street, leaving but
one engine and a fireboat to water
down the smoldering heaps.

The fire started at 10 o'clock Thursday night in a building occupied by the Cudahy Packing company and T. A.
Wheeler & Co. and Conron & Co.,
dealers in poultry. Besides this building it practically destroyed a

break out afresh.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE IS REPORTED TO BE VERY DAN-GEROUSLY ILL.

HEART ACTION IS IRREGULAR

HEROIC REMEDIES NECESSARY
TO KEEP THE FAMOUS PA-TIENT ALIVE.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The condition
of Postmaster General Payne, whose
serious illness was announced Thurs-
day night, continued extremely grave
throughout Friday. There were times
during the day, notably in the early
morning and late in the afternoon,
when the attending physicians believed the end was near at hand, but
the patient responded to the heroic
remedies applied and seemed to regain
some of the lost ground. Last night
at about 8 o'clock Mr. Payne fell into a restless sleep, which continued for some time. The doctors regarded this
as encouraging for a peaceful night.

Several bulletins were issued by the
physicians during the day and all of
them indicated the critical condition
of the patient.

The greatest cause of alarm was the
feebleness of the heart action and it
was found necessary to administer
saline solution and nitro-glycerin to
stimulate that organ. Only moderately severe doses were given, however,
and in most cases the result was
gratifying.

The most hopeful sign is that although his stomach has always been a
weak spot to him, he was able to retain nourishment Friday.

Mind Is Active and Alert.

During the sinking spells, several of
which occurred Friday and last evening, Mr. Payne retained consciousness
throughout and his mind seemed to be active and alert. He asked frequent
questions of those about him, indicating an interest in what was transpir-
ing. One or more physicians are constantly at the postmaster general's
bedside, but aside from them and the
nurse, no one except Mrs. Payne has
been allowed in the sickroom. Mrs.
Payne, although very much over-
wrought by the condition of her husband, has borne up bravely.

Dr. William Osler, the heart special-
ist and diagnostician of Baltimore,
was brought into the case last even-
ing. He remained for about an hour
and joined the other physicians in
signing the 7 o'clock bulletin. Dr.
Osler said that while Mr. Payne's condition was critical, he had hopes that
with a restful night he would show
improvement in the morning. At the same time, he added, the case was
like a "tip in the balance—it might go
one way or the other."

Everywhere in official circles Fri-
day the deepest concern and solicitude
was manifested in the outcome. The
president is being kept constantly advised during the day and both he and Mrs. Roosevelt have called in person
during the day and evening.

At 2:25 a. m. Mr. Payne appeared to be resting quietly.

RED LAKE INDIAN LANDS.

About Six Thousand Acres to Be Opened for Settlement.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Congressman
Steenerson saw Commissioner Rich-
ards of the general land office Friday
and asked that certain tracts of land
in the Red Lake and other reservations in Minnesota heretofore reserved
from settlement be thrown open to settlement. The commissioner directed
the preparation of lists of such lands,
aggregating about 6,000 acres, and
they will be opened in accordance with
the terms of the Nelson act. They will
be advertised for thirty days, at the
end of which time settlers will be permitted to make entry. They will be required to comply with the general
homestead law as to residence and
cultivation and will have to pay $1.25
an acre for their holdings at the end
of the residence period.

THROWN FROM A CARRIAGE.

One Woman Killed and Three Others
Injured.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 1.—Four
women were thrown from a carriage
Friday by the shying of a frightened
horse, and Mrs. D. McDonald was instantly killed. Mrs. Vansycle was
badly injured about the face and head.
Miss Elizabeth Anderson was bruised
and internal injuries are feared; Mrs.
C. F. Holmes was slightly bruised. The
women were in Mrs. McDonald's carriage and were driving near the new
street railway tracks. The horse took
fright at a spool of wire and turned
the rig. Mrs. McDonald fell with her
head against a pole and her skull was crushed. She was dead before she could be lifted from the ground.

INDIANS ATTACK CAMPS.

Many Persons Killed and Wounded in Southern Mexico.

New York, Oct. 1.—Advices received by mail from a correspondent
of the Herald at Belize, British Hon-
duras, says:

murdered or carried into captivity."

Young Wife Kills Herself.

Huron, S. D., Oct. 1.—The wife of Robert Weinheim died Friday afternoon from the effects of carbolic acid,
drunk with suicidal intent. No cause
is assigned. She was twenty-four years old, and married Weinheim last June.

Pioneer Nebraska Editor Decd.

Journal, died at his home in this city
last night from neuritis of the heart,
aged sixty-one. He was one of the pioneers of the state.

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE.

Certain State Food Commissioners
Accused of Accepting Bribes.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—As a result of
charges of bribery preferred against
certain state food commissioners by
T. N. Barrett, editor of a New York
trade journal, at Thursday's session
of the International Pure Food congress, a committee of investigation
was appointed and instructed to go over the ground with Mr. Barrett and
conduct a thorough inquiry.

Mr. Barrett asserted that he could prove that certain state food commissioners accepted emoluments in return for extending immunity from the provisions of the pure food laws of the
different states.

The meeting also developed a number of interesting discussions on the subject of adulterated food products.

ACTION IN GURNEY CASE.

Judgment Vacated and Fines Imposed
Remitted.

Boston, Sept. 30.—After allowing
time for the communications in the Phelps-Gurney case to reach Washington Governor Bates has made public
various letters bearing on the subject.
The governor informed the state department that the judgment against
Third Secretary Gurney of the British
embassy has been vacated and the
fines imposed remitted. He says that Judge Phelps had expressed regret to
the secretary by letter, a copy of which
he forwards, together with a statement by Judge Phelps. Governor
Bates suggests that the attention of
the British ambassador be called to
the breach of the laws of Massachusetts under the belief that the ambassador will take such action as the
case may demand.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT ENDED.

Dissolved Thursday and a General Election Will Occur.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 30.—Parliament
was dissolved last evening. The general election will take place on Nov.
2. The leading issue will probably be
the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, which
has received favorable legislation
from the government. The proposed
route for the Grand Trunk Pacific is about 250 miles north of the Canadian Pacific.

ed to the St. Paul club. No change in the makeup of the league for next year
is contemplated.

New York Firemen Have a Long Battle With the Flames.

New York, Oct. 1.—After twenty-
two hours' fighting of a fire that proved
to be one of the worst the New York
department has had to contend with
for years, Chief Croker last night at 8
o'clock called all the men and apparatus away from the ruins of a block of meat packing and refrigerating plants
in West Fourteenth street, leaving but
one engine and a fireboat to water
down the smouldering heaps.

The fire started at 10 o'clock Thursday night in a building occupied by
the Cudahy Packing company and T.
A. Wheeler & Co., and Conron & Co.,
dealers in poultry. Besides this
building it practically destroyed a hotel and two four-story houses. The loss is about $200,000. Time and time
again throughout the day the fire appeared to be under control, only to
break out afresh.

Senator Charles of Wisconsin pre-

briefly referred to the factional differences in the Republican party
by saying that he did not know whether the apparent apathy in Wisconsin
was due to the unfortunate factional differences or to the settled conviction that President Roosevelt was good enough for them.

CONDITION IS SERIOUS

POSTMASTER GENERAL PAYNE IS REPORTED TO BE VERY DAN-GEROUSLY ILL.

HEART ACTION IS IRREGULAR

HEROIC REMEDIES NECESSARY
TO KEEP THE FAMOUS PA-TIENT ALIVE.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The condition
of Postmaster General Payne, whose
serious illness was announced Thurs-
day night, continued extremely grave
throughout Friday. There were times
during the day, notably in the early
morning and late in the afternoon,
when the attending physicians believed the end was near at hand, but
the patient responded to the heroic
remedies applied and seemed to regain
some of the lost ground. Last night
at about 8 o'clock Mr. Payne fell into
a restless sleep, which continued for some time. The doctors regarded this
as encouraging for a peaceful night.

Several bulletins were issued by the
physicians during the day and all of
them indicated the critical condition
of the patient.

The greatest cause of alarm was the
feebleness of the heart action and it
was found necessary to administer
saline solution and nitro-glycerin to
stimulate that organ. Only moderately severe doses were given, however,
and in most cases the result was
gratifying.

The most hopeful sign is that although his stomach has always been a
weak spot to him, he was able to retain nourishment Friday.

Mind Is Active and Alert.

During the sinking spells, several of
which occurred Friday and last evening, Mr. Payne retained consciousness
throughout and his mind seemed to be active and alert. He asked frequent
questions of those about him, indicating an interest in what was transpir-
ing. One or more physicians are constantly at the postmaster general's
bedside, but aside from them and the
nurse, no one except Mrs. Payne has
been allowed in the sickroom. Mrs.
Payne, although very much over-
wrought by the condition of her husband, has borne up bravely.

Dr. William Osler, the heart special-
ist and diagnostician of Baltimore,
was brought into the case last even-
ing. He remained for about an hour
and joined the other physicians in
signing the 7 o'clock bulletin. Dr.
Osler said that while Mr. Payne's condition was critical he had hopes that
with a restful night he would show
improvement in the morning. At the same time he added, the case was
like a "tip in the balance—it might go
one way or the other."

Everywhere in official circles Friday the deepest concern and solitude
was manifested in the outcome. The
president is being kept constantly advised during the day and both he and Mrs. Roosevelt have called in person
during the day and evening.

At 2.25 a. m. Mr. Payne appeared to be resting quietly.

RED LAKE INDIAN LANDS.

About Six Thousand Acres to Be Opened for Settlement.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Congressman
Steenerson saw Commissioner Rich-
ards of the general land office Friday
and asked that certain tracts of land
in the Red Lake and other reservations in Minnesota heretofore reserved
from settlement be thrown open to settlement. The commissioner directed
the preparation of lists of such lands,
aggregating about 6,000 acres, and
they will be opened in accordance with
the terms of the Nelson act. They will
be advertised for thirty days, at the
end of which time settlers will be permitted to make entry. They will be required to comply with the general
homestead law as to residence and
cultivation and will have to pay $1.25
an acre for their holdings at the end
of the residence period.

THROWN FROM A CARRIAGE.

One Woman Killed and Three Others
Injured.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 1.—Four
women were thrown from a carriage
Friday by the shying of a frightened
horse, and Mrs. D. McDonald was instantly killed. Mrs. Vandyke was badly injured about the face and head.
Miss Elizabeth Anderson was bruised
and internal injuries are feared; Mrs.
C. F. Holmes was slightly bruised. The
women were in Mrs. McDonald's carriage and were driving near the new
street railway tracks. The horse took
fright at a spool of wire and turned
the rig. Mrs. McDonald fell with her
head against a pole and her skull was crushed. She was dead before she
could be lifted from the ground.

ceived by mail from a correspondent

duras, says:

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE.

Certain State Food Commissioners
Accused of Accepting Bribes.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—As a result of
charges of bribery preferred against
certain state food commissioners by
T. N. Barrett, editor of a New York
trade journal, at Thursday's session
of the International Pure Food congress, a committee of investigation
was appointed and instructed to go over the ground with Mr. Barrett and
conduct a thorough inquiry.

Mr. Barrett asserted that he could
prove that certain state food commissioners accepted emoluments in return for extending immunity from the provisions of the pure food laws of the
different states.

The meeting also developed a number of interesting discussions on the subject of adulterated food products.

ACTION IN GURNEY CASE.

Judgment Vacated and Fines Imposed
Remitted.

Boston, Sept. 30.—After allowing
time for the communications in the
PHELPS-GURNEY case to reach Washington Governor Bates has made public various letters bearing on the subject.
The governor informed the state department that the judgment against
Third Secretary Gurney of the British
embassy has been vacated and the
fines imposed remitted. He says that Judge Phelps had expressed regret to
the secretary by letter, a copy of which
he forwards, together with a statement by Judge Phelps. Governor
Bates suggests that the attention of
the British ambassador be called to
the breach of the laws of Massachusetts under the belief that the ambassador will take such action as the
case may demand.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT ENDED.

2. The leading issue will probably be

has received favorable legislation
from the government. The proposed

about 250 miles north of the Canadian Pacific.

TRADE AND GENERAL INDUSTRY.

Show Improvement on Steady and Conservative Lines.

New York, Oct. 1.—Bradstreet's
weekly review of trade says the word
"improvement" summarizes briefly the
course of trade and general industry
this week. Although the movements
as for a time past are along conservative lines, the outlook is rather more
optimistic than at any previous time
this season. Reasons for this are
found in the continuance of propitious
weather conditions, a tendency to en-
large final estimates of grain crop
yields, more activity in pig iron and
better collections, based upon enlarged
crop movement. Confirmation of these reports is found in indicated increases
in bank clearings, both in New York
and outside thereof, as compared with
September a year ago and in continued
gains aggregating 5 per cent in gross
railway earnings over 1903. Money is,
on the whole firmer, reflecting related
crop movements necessities. A striking absence of political agitation as
affecting trade is noted and the feeling
generally is that the year will close
better than it began.

Notable features are the improvement in jobbing trade at nearly all
Western points in dry goods, shoes,
groceries, millinery, hardware, paints
and drugs. Reports of better collections are very general.

STUBBORN FIRE CONTROLLED.

New York Firemen Have a Long Battle With the Flames.

New York, Oct. 1.—After twenty-
two hours' fighting of a fire that proved
to be one of the worst the New York
department has had to contend with
for years, Chief Croker last night at 8
o'clock called all the men and appar-
atus away from the ruins of a block of
meat packing and refrigerating plants
in West Fourteenth street, leaving but
one engine and a fireboat to water
down the smouldering heaps.

The fire started at 10 o'clock Thurs-
day night in a building occupied by
the Cudahy Packing company and T.
A. Wheeler & Co., and Conron & Co., dealers in poultry. Besides this building it practically destroyed a hotel and two four-story houses. The loss is about $200,000. Time and time
again throughout the day the fire appeared to be under control, only to
break out afresh.

J. C. Schwenk, of Klondike, Driven to Desperation Takes Dose of Strychnine

IN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION

And was Removed at Once to St. Joseph's Hospital and he Will Recover

J. C. Schwenk, a quite well to do farmer of Klondike town, because he had had some domestic troubles, came to town yesterday, bought a small vial of strychnine and when at the outskirts of the city presumably on his way home took a dose of the poison with the intent of committing suicide.

A team of horses at the end of Seventh street last evening between 5 and 6 o'clock attracted the attention of a young son of Alderman Purdy and a son of Officer Derocher. The boys went over to where the team was standing and found that there was a man laying on his back in the wagon seemingly unconscious. They had forethought enough, believing that the man was dying, to drive the team hurriedly up town. They drove up in front of the First National bank building and Dr. Batcheller was called down. He ordered the man moved at once to St. Joseph's hospital and called Dr. Thabes in consultation.

On the way to the hospital it was discovered that the man's name was J. C. Schwenk and he told the doctors that he had taken strychnine. He went into convulsions shortly afterwards and it took a desperate fight to bring him through. He was finally brought around, and became quite rational before morning.

To an attendant at the hospital he admitted that he had taken the poison and stated that it was all over some domestic trouble which he had. He and his wife were married about three years ago but they separated some time ago. When they were married Mrs. Schwenk owned a very valuable farm near Deerwood and Schwenk himself had a farm near Klondike. Some time ago some trouble arose between them and Mrs. Schwenk returned to her own farm, since which time the husband has been despondent.

He came to town yesterday but did not tell anyone about his trouble in particular. He transacted what business he had and started for home, and was not seen again until found in the south part of town.

He is much better today although he is a very sick man. It is thought that he will pull through. He is being constantly watched at the hospital.

Miss Gilman in Opera.

The production is to be an elaborate one, and Miss Gilman's role is a leading one.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

The following is taken from the Wadena Pioneer Journal, the bride spoken of being a sister of Clyde Robertson, of THE DISPATCH:

"At 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning at the M. E. church in this city, Miss Jennie Maud Robertson and Mr. Howard Casselman, of Fargo, N. D., were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Watson, and numerous friends and relatives witnessed it.

"The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Robertson, and is a handsome and lovable young lady, who is a prime favorite in Wadena. For a few years she has been a successful school teacher, teaching in the public schools at Duluth. The groom is an enterprising young man, who is in the drug business at Fargo, and it is there that the couple will make their future home.

"Many friends unite in extending to the happy couple hearty congratulations and good wishes."

A Pleasant Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was given Rev. H. W. Knowles and his daughter Marguerita, at the parsonage last night, when a large number of friends gathered to celebrate in honor of their joint birthday. A very enjoyable time was spent by all, but was especially appreciated by the pastor and family from the fact that it was the third time he has been able to be present with his family on this occasion during the past ten years, as the Methodist conference usually convenes at this particular time of the year. Miss E. E. Knowles and Miss Halladay rendered several instrumental duets and a solo "Elaine" by Mr. Santee was rendered very artistically. The decorations of autumn leaves were very pretty. Light refreshments of coffee and cake were served and several very pretty remembrances and many returns and well wishes were bestowed upon the honored.

TRIBUTES TO SENATOR HOAR.

Not Confined to Any School or Party or Creed.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 1.—Friday was a day of tribute to Senator Hoar. From all parts of the commonwealth, of the country, and from beyond the United States have come expressions of sympathy and with them unstinted encomiums to the worth, the service and the character of the dead statesman. The utterances have been confined to no party nor school nor creed.

"Thief of Time" Held.

"Procrastination," called out a wag of a clerk in the Adams street court in Brooklyn the other day, and a wag of a court officer, who understood, led forward one Thomas Morgan, no home.

"What is the prisoner charged with?" asked the court.

"Stealing ten alarm clocks from a store at 150 Myrtle avenue."

"Thief of time, we will hold you for the grand jury," decided the court.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THAT LITTLE SWEDIE"

The next attraction at the Brainerd Opera House will be the successful dialect comedy "That Little Swede," a story of the Wisconsin forest.

Miss Emily Erickson Greene who will play the title role is a native of Sweden and an actress of merit. The clever and legitimate methods she has always employed in interpreting her art has won for her high praise even from the most critical. In private life she is also universally esteemed for her very excellent qualities. Generous, even to a fault, no tale of suffering ever reaches her ears that she does not promptly take means to alleviate, and in such an unostentatious manner that it is very rarely heard of, for she is one of those noble hearted women

"Who do good by stealth, And blush to find it fame."

Miss Greene is also a highly educated woman; she is thoroughly familiar with the higher class of literature and to hear her discuss a recent work of note is indeed a treat as she is a brilliant conversationalist; her sense of humor is most keen and her wit is more amusing for the reason that it is spontaneous.

The date of this performance will be Oct. 5th.

WILD BILL'S FIRST FIGHT.

He Was Wounded, but Killed Six of the McKandlas Gang.

Wild Bill, whose real name was James Hickok, first came west in 1857 and drove an ox team on the plains for Majors & Russell in 1860. He subsequently engaged himself to the overland stage company as stock tender and was put in charge of a new stage station on Rock creek, near the old McKandlas station, which was generally known as Robbers' Roost. This was the headquarters for the McKandlas gang, a crowd that had held together since the Missouri-Kansas border ruffian days and generally had things their own way. A man named Ficklin, and a number one stage hand, was the superintendent. He tried to buy out the McKandlas station; but, failing in this, he built a new one near by, putting young Hickok in charge. Up to that time he had never experienced trouble with any one and was not likely to have friction, especially with the old station keeper, McKandlas, or his men.

In the winter of 1860-61 McKandlas and his nephew and four other men passed by the new station on horseback, leading an old man who was afoot. They had a rope around the old fellow's neck, and occasionally they would take a few turns around the horn of the saddle, make a run on the rope and jerk the old man down and drag him on the ground until he was nearly dead. The only spite they had against him was that he was a North Methodist preacher. If Wild Bill was anything he was an abolitionist and free soiler and loyal to the United States. The McKandlas crowd was planning to make a raid on several stations to secure the stock and go south. They told young Hickok they would take the stock. He replied that he would be there.

When they returned late in the evening two stopped at the corral, two went to the front and two to the back door of the cabin or hut. Hickok told them he would shoot the first man who took down the bars of the corral. The elder McKandlas fired at Hickok, but missed him. Hickok returned the fire with a rifle and shot McKandlas in the heart. The next shot from Hickok killed the nephew, and the two fell at the front door. Just then the two at the back door opened fire. One shot from a double barreled gun lodged seven full grown buckshot into Hickok's right side and breast, two of which entered his lungs. The two men who stopped at the corral came to the assistance of the two men at the house. Hickok was then in a hand to hand fight with four men. He killed three of them in the house and wounded the other so badly that he died on the prairie.—Denver Field and Farm.

"Freedom to Worship God."

One of the conditions which promote peace between the states of the United States is that wherever any citizen may be he is free to enjoy whatever form of religion he prefers. He may be a Christian, Mohammedan or pagan, as he pleases, only he must preserve the peace and live a decent life. World peace will be unspeakably promoted if there prevails such a system of world law that when a man goes into any part of the world he will be free to worship God after any form he prefers. Other liberties now not known in all countries may be expected in the growing toleration and homogeneity of the world.—R. L. Bridgman in Atlantic.

Is He That Way Inclined.

The editor of the Pine Tree Blaze has gone to the St. Louis fair and the "office push" perpetrates the following on him:

Ye Editor has laid aside his quill, washed his hands of scissors and paste pot, and hied himself toward the sunny south to bask in smiles of the charming maidens of "The Pike." Even now he may be strolling through labyrinths of high life with an Amazon beauty at his side. Here's hoping that he may come back to us pure and spotless, and the hearts that sigh for his return, sigh not in vain, but should he wander from the narrow path let us receive him back as the prodigal son and kill the fatted calf.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was given Rev. H. W. Knowles and his daughter Marguerita, at the parsonage last night, when a large number of friends gathered to celebrate in honor of their joint birthday. A very enjoyable time was spent by all, but was especially appreciated by the pastor and family from the fact that it was the third time he has been able to be present with his family on this occasion during the past ten years, as the Methodist conference usually convenes at this particular time of the year. Miss E. E. Knowles and Miss Halladay rendered several instrumental duets and a solo "Elaine" by Mr. Santee was rendered very artistically. The decorations of autumn leaves were very pretty. Light refreshments of coffee and cake were served and several very pretty remembrances and many returns and well wishes were bestowed upon the honored.

TRIBUTES TO SENATOR HOAR.

Not Confined to Any School or Party or Creed.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 1.—Friday was a day of tribute to Senator Hoar. From all parts of the commonwealth, of the country, and from beyond the United States have come expressions of sympathy and with them unstinted encomiums to the worth, the service and the character of the dead statesman. The utterances have been confined to no party nor school nor creed.

"Thief of Time" Held.

"Procrastination," called out a wag of a clerk in the Adams street court in Brooklyn the other day, and a wag of a court officer, who understood, led forward one Thomas Morgan, no home.

"What is the prisoner charged with?" asked the court.

"Stealing ten alarm clocks from a store at 150 Myrtle avenue."

"Thief of time, we will hold you for the grand jury," decided the court.

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"THAT LITTLE SWEDIE"

The next attraction at the Brainerd Opera House will be the successful dialect comedy "That Little Swede," a story of the Wisconsin forest.

Miss Emily Erickson Greene who will play the title role is a native of Sweden and an actress of merit. The clever and legitimate methods she has always employed in interpreting her art has won for her high praise even from the most critical. In private life she is also universally esteemed for her very excellent qualities. Generous, even to a fault, no tale of suffering ever reaches her ears that she does not promptly take means to alleviate, and in such an unostentatious manner that it is very rarely heard of, for she is one of those noble hearted women.

"Who do good by stealth, And blush to find it fame."

Miss Greene is also a highly educated woman; she is thoroughly familiar with the higher class of literature and to hear her discuss a recent work of note is indeed a treat as she is a brilliant conversationalist; her sense of humor is most keen and her wit is more amusing for the reason that it is spontaneous.

The date of this performance will be Oct. 5th.

WILD BILL'S FIRST FIGHT.

He Was Wounded, but Killed Six of the McKandlas Gang.

Wild Bill, whose real name was James Hickok, first came west in 1857 and drove an ox team on the plains for Majors & Russell in 1860. He subsequently engaged himself to the overland stage company as stock tender and was put in charge of a new stage station on Rock creek, near the old McKandlas station, which was generally known as Robbers' Roost. This was the headquarters for the McKandlas gang, a crowd that had held together since the Missouri-Kansas border ruffian days and generally had things their own way. A man named Picklin, and a number one stage hand, was the superintendent. He tried to buy out the McKandlas station; but, failing in this, he built a new one near by, putting young Hickok in charge. Up to that time he had never experienced trouble with any one and was not likely to have friction, especially with the old station keeper, McKandlas, or his men.

In the winter of 1860-61 McKandlas and his nephew and four other men passed by the new station on horseback, leading an old man who was afoot. They had a rope around the old fellow's neck, and occasionally they would take a few turns around the horn of the saddle, make a run on the rope and jerk the old man down and drag him on the ground until he was nearly dead. The only spite they had against him was that he was a North Methodist preacher. If Wild Bill was anything he was an abolitionist and free soiler and loyal to the United States. The McKandlas crowd was planning to make a raid on several stations to secure the stock and go south. They told young Hickok they would take the stock. He replied that he would be there.

When they returned late in the evening two stopped at the corral, two went to the front and two to the back door of the cabin or hut. Hickok told them he would shoot the first man who took down the bars of the corral. The elder McKandlas fired at Hickok, but missed him. Hickok returned the fire with a rifle and shot McKandlas in the heart. The next shot from Hickok killed the nephew, and the two fell at the front door. Just then the two at the back door opened fire. One shot from a double barreled gun lodged seven full grown bucks in Hickok's right side and breast, two of which entered his lungs. The two men who stopped at the corral came to the assistance of the two men at the house. Hickok was then in a hand to hand fight with four men. He killed three of them in the house and wounded the other so badly that he died on the prairie.—Denver Field and Farm.

One of the conditions which promote peace between the states of the United States is that wherever any citizen may be he is free to enjoy whatever form of religion he prefers. He may be a Christian, Mohammedan or pagan, as he pleases, only he must preserve the peace and live a decent life. World peace will be unspeakably promoted if there prevails such a system of world law that when a man goes into any part of the world he will be free to worship God after any form he prefers. Other liberties now not known in all countries may be expected in the growing toleration and homogeneity of the world.—R. L. Bridgman in Atlantic.

A FAILURE AT SUICIDE

J. C. Schwenk, of Klondike, Driven to Desperation Takes Dose of Strychnine

IN UNCONSCIOUS CONDITION

And was Removed at Once to St. Joseph's Hospital and he Will Recover

J. C. Schwenk, a quite well to do farmer of Klondike town, because he had had some domestic troubles, came to town yesterday, bought a small vial of strychnine and when at the outskirts of the city presumably on his way home took a dose of the poison with the intent of committing suicide.

A team of horses at the end of Seventh street last evening between 5 and 6 o'clock attracted the attention of a young son of Alderman Purdy and a son of Officer Derocher. The boys went over to where the team was standing and found that there was a man laying on his back in the wagon seemingly unconscious. They had forethought enough, believing that the man was dying, to drive the team hurriedly up town. They drove up in front of the First National bank building and Dr. Batcheller was called down. He ordered the man moved at once to St. Joseph's hospital and called Dr. Thabes in consultation.

On the way to the hospital it was discovered that the man's name was J. C. Schwenk and he told the doctors that he had taken strychnine. He went into convulsions shortly afterwards and it took a desperate fight to bring him through. He was finally brought around, and became quite rational before morning.

To an attendant at the hospital he admitted that he had taken the poison and stated that it was all over some domestic trouble which he had. He and his wife were married about three years ago but they separated some time ago. When they were married Mrs. Schwenk owned a very valuable farm near Deerwood and Schwenk himself had a farm near Klondike. Some time ago some trouble arose between them and Mrs. Schwenk returned to her own farm, since which time the husband has been despondent.

He came to town yesterday but did not tell anyone about his trouble in particular. He transacted what business he had and started for home, and was not seen again until found in the south part of town.

He is much better today although he is a very sick man. It is thought that he will pull through. He is being constantly watched at the hospital.

Miss Gilman in Opera.

Miss Constance L. Gilman returned home last evening from the east, where she recently signed a contract for three years in opera under the management of Melville B. Raymond. Miss Gilman's first role will be that of Amarel, in "The Man From China," a new comic opera which is to have its first production about the middle of November in Boston or Baltimore. The production is to be an elaborate one, and Miss Gilman's role is a leading one.—St. Cloud Journal-Press.

"Freedom to Worship God."

One of the conditions which promote peace between the states of the United States is that wherever any citizen may be he is free to enjoy whatever form of religion he prefers. He may be a Christian, Mohammedan or pagan, as he pleases, only he must preserve the peace and live a decent life. World peace will be unspeakably promoted if there prevails such a system of world law that when a man goes into any part of the world he will be free to worship God after any form he prefers. Other liberties now not known in all countries may be expected in the growing toleration and homogeneity of the world.—R. L. Bridgman in Atlantic.

JAPAN'S NAVAL BASE.

Safe From Attacks of Fleets, Sasebo Is Fortified by Nature.

There is probably no other country so strongly fortified by nature as Japan, says a correspondent of the London Standard. Sasebo is a good example of the lavish manner in which nature has determined to protect the Land of the Gods. Here is their naval base for all the operations around Port Arthur, absolutely safe from attack by a hostile fleet. The fortifications of most of Japan's naval arsenals are not at the port itself, but at some point forty or fifty miles away. Thus it is with Sasebo. The dockyard and arsenal are practically landlocked, hills surrounding them on all sides. In fact, the entrance is hard to find, and a few mines placed at judicious points are all that is needed to render it impassable.

From Sasebo the fleet draws all its supplies. In the great storehouses we were shown enormous supplies of clothes, boots, bread, rice, meat and many other articles, all neatly piled and separated, ready for instant shipment to the scene of operations. In the bay were numerous transports, ready to convey provisions and men to any required point, lying in perfect safety in the euphoric basin formed by some vast upheaval of nature thousands of years ago. Sasebo's fortifications are many miles away. An enemy coming from the north must pass between the mainland and the island of Hirado or else between that island and the numerous little islands on its western shore. Toward the south the Goto islands have taken upon themselves the protection of Japan's southern naval base. In the most approved military fashion they have thrown out, between themselves and the mainland of Kyushu, a little line of six sentinels—Kashima, Iura, Yeno, Otate, Mikoto and Kakinoura. According to the drill book sentinels should always have their reserves near at hand, so the island of Kuro acts as the reserve to the sentinels. Again, according to military authorities, the reserve should always have a strong support in its rear, and nature has supplied the support in the island of Yaku. A group of pickets—Nosaki, Kosaka, Ashika and Uku—connect the two groups of Goto and Hirado. Nations are by their geographical positions destined to play particular roles in the world's drama, and no one who has seen Japan's natural fortifications could ever doubt that she was intended to be mistress of the seas in the far east.

DIET FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Three Square Meals and Thirty-six Raw Eggs a Day.

You have to eat at a sanitarium for consumption hungry or not, says Philadelphia Ledger.

everybody's Magazine. There are no big gorges to overwork the stomach, but there are six meals a day of moderate size. Some patients can eat full meals and then swallow thirty-six raw eggs a day. The aim of the treatment in these sanitariums is to get the sick man to drink three quarts of milk and eat a dozen raw eggs a day in addition to his regular meals of simple food.

And you must eat meat and plenty of it. Don't cut the fat off. The cow got most of the good out of the lean in her lifetime. The fat is what will do you good. All that there is to eat liver oil that makes it worth while is that it is a fat easy to assimilate. Bacon fat is nearly as easy to digest and about five hundred times as easy to take.

Fruits and salads you may eat merely to amuse yourself and pass the time. But you are wasting stomach room on them. Milk, eggs, meat and hard breads for you if you are to get well; not a great deal at a time, but often.

BOWLEGS BARRED.

Uncle Sam's Soldiers Must Have Straight Underpinnings.

Major Galbraith, recruiting officer for the United States army, and Colonel Thomas of the Eleventh cavalry, stationed at Fort Des Moines, are authority for the statement that bow-legged men will hereafter be barred from the army.

The purpose of this order, which emanates from the war department, is explained on the ground that a bow-legged man cannot withstand a hard march as successfully as his comrade with symmetrical extremities. Hitherto it has been customary to admit bow-legged men to the cavalry regiments and to regard it as a point in their favor, but service in the American-Spanish war showed that cavalrymen do much dismounted service.

One Woman Who Can Aim Straight.

In the near future marksmen in some parts of the United States will probably find themselves opposed on the shooting range to one of the cleverest rifle shots in England. Miss Florence Leves, the young woman whose exploits at the annual shooting competition this year have attracted wide attention all over the world. Miss Leves, who is a grandniece of George Henry Leves, explained, just after she had made thirty-three out of a possible thirty-five bullseyes at 200 yards, that she took up shooting not long ago because she intends to emigrate to Canada shortly. So her appearance on American ranges is likely.

A Real Hero.

"You don't believe in divorce, then?" "No, sir; I've got too much sportin' blood."

"What has that to do with it?"

"I believe in a fight to the finish." Philadelphia Ledger.

DUEL WITH REVOLVERS.

Both Participants Wounded in Fight in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—In a fight with revolvers between employees of Armour & Co. last night John Valetto, foreman of the can department, was fatally wounded and Albert Turner, a colored laborer, was severely injured. The trouble followed a dispute over some work that Turner was doing and which did not suit Valetto. Both men drew revolvers and standing behind rows of canned meats, fired repeatedly at each other. Valetto was hit by two bullets. The negro was shot in the leg and the neck.

GANS AND WALCOTT DRAW.

Fight Twenty Fast and Furious Rounds at 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Joe Gans and Joe Walcott, holders respectively of the lightweight and welterweight championships, fought twenty rounds to a draw last night. The decision was not well received by many of the spectators, who seemed of the opinion that Gans should have been favored. The fight throughout was furious.

He Smoked.

A very pretty girl with a well defined air of knowing her way about tripped into a day coach of a train bound for Washington at Philadelphia Tuesday afternoon. Every window seat was occupied. The girl walked half way down the car and with obvious disappointment took the best seat that offered. A large, superheated looking man already occupied half of it. He held his breath long enough to make room for the girl, and she squeezed in. Then he settled himself again and appeared to swell out in every direction. The girl cast longing glances at the window, but the man's huge bulk and open newspaper cut off her view. The girl fidgeted. The man spread himself more and more. Full three-quarters of the seat he filled to overflowing. The girl set her teeth. Thirty miles spun by. The girl could endure it no longer. She turned her face to him.

"Excuse me," she said distinctly, "but don't you ever smoke?"

Two minutes later the whole seat was hers.—Washington Post.

JAPAN'S NAVAL BASE.

Safe From Attacks of Fleets, Sasebo Is Fortified by Nature.

There is probably no other country so strongly fortified by nature as Japan, says a correspondent of the London Standard. Sasebo is a good example of the lavish manner in which nature has determined to protect the Land of the Gods. Here is their naval base for all the operations around Port Arthur, absolutely safe from attack by a hostile fleet. The fortifications of most of Japan's naval arsenals are not at the port itself, but at some point forty or fifty miles away. Thus it is with Sasebo. The dockyard and arsenal are practically landlocked, hills surrounding them on all sides. In fact, the entrance is hard to find, and a few mines placed at judicious points are all that is needed to render it impregnable.

From Sasebo the fleet draws all its supplies. In the great storehouses were shown enormous supplies of clothes, boots, bread, rice, meat and many other articles, all neatly piled and separated, ready for instant shipment to the scene of operations. In the bay were numerous transports, ready to convey provisions and men to any required point, lying in perfect safety in the euphoric basin formed by some vast upheaval of nature thousands of years ago. Sasebo's fortifications are many miles away. An enemy coming from the north must pass between the mainland and the island of Hirado or else between that island and the numerous little islands on its western shore. Toward the south the Gotto Islands have taken upon themselves the protection of Japan's southern naval base. In the most approved military fashion they have thrown out, between themselves and the mainland of Kyushu, a little line of six sentinels—Kashira, Hiru, Yeno, Otate, Mikoto and Kakinoura. According to the drill book sentinels should always have their reserves near at hand, so the island of Kuro acts as the reserve to the sentinels. Again, according to military authorities, the reserve should always have a strong support in its rear, and nature has supplied the support in the island of Taka. A group of pickets—Nosaki, Kosaka, Ashika and Uku—connect the two groups of Gotto and Hirado. Nations are by their geographical positions destined to play particular roles in the world's drama, and no one who has seen Japan's natural fortifications could ever doubt that she was intended to be mistress of the seas in the far east.

DIET FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Three Square Meals and Thirty-six Raw Eggs a Day.

You have to eat at a sanitarium for consumption hungry or not, says E.

everybody's Magazine. There are no big gorges to overwork the stomach, but there are six meals a day of moderate size. Some patients can eat full meals and then swallow thirty-six raw eggs a day. The aim of the treatment in these sanitariums is to get the sick man to drink three quarts of milk and eat a dozen raw eggs a day in addition to his regular meals of simple food.

And you must eat meat and plenty of it. Don't cut the fat off. The cow got most of the good out of the lean in her lifetime. The fat is what will do you good. All that there is to cod liver oil that makes it worth while is that it is a fat easy to assimilate. Bacon fat is nearly as easy to digest and about five hundred times as easy to take.

Fruits and salads you may eat merely to amuse yourself and pass the time. But you are wasting stomach room on them. Milk, eggs, meat and hard breads for you if you are to get well; not a great deal at a time, but often.

BOWLEGS BARRED.

Uncle Sam's Soldiers Must Have Straight Underpinnings.

Major Galbraith, recruiting officer for the United States army, and Colonel Thomas of the Eleventh cavalry, stationed at Fort Des Moines, are authority for the statement that bowlegged men will hereafter be barred from the army.

The purpose of this order, which emanates from the war department, is explained on the ground that a bowlegged man cannot withstand a hard march as successfully as his comrade with symmetrical extremities. Hitherto it has been customary to admit bowlegged men to the cavalry regiments and to regard it as a point in their favor, but service in the American-Spanish war showed that cavalrymen do much dismounted service.

One Woman Who Can Aim Straight.

In the near future marksmen in some parts of the United States will probably find themselves opposed on the shooting range to one of the cleverest rifle shots in England. Miss Florence Lewes, the young woman whose exploits at the annual shooting competition this year have attracted wide attention all over the world. Miss Lewes, who is a grandniece of George Henry Lewes, explained, just after she had made thirty-three out of a possible thirty-five bullseyes at 200 yards, that she took up shooting not long ago because she intends to emigrate to Canada shortly. So her appearance on American ranges is likely.

A Real Hero.

"You don't believe in divorce, then?"
"No, sir; I've got too much sportin' blood."
"What has that to do with it?"
"I believe in a fight to the finish."

DUEL WITH REVOLVERS.

Both Participants Wounded in Fight in Chicago.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—In a fight with revolvers between employees of Armour & Co. last night John Valetto, foreman of the can department, was fatally wounded and Albert Turner, a colored laborer, was severely injured. The trouble followed a dispute over some work that Turner was doing and which did not suit Valetto. Both men drew revolvers and standing behind rows of canned meats, fired repeatedly at each other. Valetto was hit by two bullets. The negro was shot in the leg and the neck.

Four Governors Participate.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The chief executives of four states, Governors Terrell of Georgia, Beckham of Kentucky, Herried of South Dakota and White of North Dakota, participated in the celebration of Jamestown exposition Thursday at the Virginia world's fair building.

GANS AND WALCOTT DRAW.

Fight Twenty Fast and Furious Rounds at 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Oct. 1.—Joe Gans and Joe Walcott, holders respectively of the lightweight and welterweight championships, fought twenty rounds to a draw last night. The decision was not well received by many of the spectators, who seemed of the opinion that Gans should have been favored. The fight throughout was furious.

He Smoked.

A very pretty girl with a well defined air of knowing her way about tripped into a day coach of a train bound for Washington at Philadelphia Tuesday afternoon. Every window seat was occupied. The girl walked half way down the car and with obvious disappointment took the best seat that offered. A large, superheated looking man already occupied half of it. He held his breath long enough to make room for the girl, and she squeezed in. Then he settled himself again and appeared to swell out in every direction. The girl cast longing glances at the window, but the man's huge bulk and open newspaper cut off her view. The girl fidgeted. The man spread himself more and more. Full three-quarters of the seat he filled to overflowing. The girl set her teeth. Thirty miles spun by. The girl could endure it no longer. She turned her face to him.

"Excuse me," she said distinctly, "but don't you ever smoke?"
Two minutes later the whole seat was hers.—Washington Post.
